- be able to examine critically various types of information from within the subject area
- demonstrate a well-developed ability to assess his/her own work critically.

Course content

The course deals with selected theories and methods from the discipline of History and adopts a broad outlook to other disciplines. Students read scholarly works - both overviews and those concerning specific issues relevant to Central and Eastern Europe. The course literature examines various research traditions and theoretical schools. Students are expected to write a degree project on a subject chosen in consultation with the examiner, of approximately 30-40 pages in length. The project is then discussed critically at a seminar together with a previously appointed student examiner.

The course consists of the following sub-courses:

1. Method and Theory, 7.5 credits,
2. Literature Course, 7.5 credits,
3. Degree Project, 15 credits.

Course design

Teaching consists of seminars. Obligatory, assessed seminars are scheduled in all sub-courses.

Assessment

Sub-course 3 is examined by the submission of a degree project which is discussed orally at a seminar. Performance in this seminar contributes to the final grade. In the remaining sub-courses, examination can take the form of assessed seminars, written and/or oral examinations, and written assignments.

Passed degree projects at the Faculties of Humanities and Theology can be registered in the LUP Student Papers database if the student so wishes. The student is responsible for uploading the passed degree project as a PDF file in LUP student papers.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass, Pass with distinction.

To be awarded a Pass on the whole course the student shall have the grade of Pass on all sub-courses. To be awarded the grade of Pass with Distinction on the whole course the student shall have the grade of Pass with Distinction on the degree essay and least a grade of Pass on the remaining sub-courses.

Entry requirements

To be eligible for the course requires the successful completion of ÖCKA01, or the equivalent.
