Details of approval

The syllabus was approved by The pro-dean for First-Cycle Studies at the Faculties of Humanities and Theology on 2018-02-20 to be valid from 2018-08-31, autumn semester 2018.

General Information

The course is included as elective course in Master of Arts (120 credits) programme in Archaeology and Ancient History- Theory and Practice (HAAAH). It is also offered as a freestanding course.

Language of instruction: Swedish

Main field of studies

Archaeology and Ancient History

Depth of study relative to the degree requirements

A1N, Second cycle, has only first-cycle course/s as entry requirements

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students shall be able to

Knowledge and understanding

- account for the practical use of archaeological perspectives in the area of the work placement

Competence and skills

- reflect on the link between the area of the work placement and a field of knowledge of relevance to the subject
- discuss and analyse in speech and writing the role of the archaeologist in society

Judgement and approach

- discuss and take a position on questions concerning the significance of the area of the work placement with regard to society, cultural history and research

Course content

The course consists of an internship at a workplace of relevance to the main fields of archaeology and ancient history. The content of the internship may vary depending on the student's specialisation and the orientation of the workplace. Relevant workplaces may include archives museums, publishing houses, county councils etc, as well as organisations conducting projects abroad. It is the responsibility of the department to find work placements. The student may also take the initiative to find a work placement. In the latter case, the work placement must be approved by the course management.

Course design

The teaching consists of a work placement and 1-2 compulsory seminars.

Assessment

The assessment is based on the student's satisfactory completion of 10 weeks of internship and an oral and written report.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass.

Entry requirements

To be admitted to the course, the student must have completed course ARKK04, ARKH04, AKSK04, HOSK04 or the equivalent.

Further information

1. The course is offered at the Department of Archaeology and Ancient History, Lund University.
2. It replaces ARKN03.
3. The credits allocated for course content that in whole or in part is commensurate with another course can only be credited once for a degree. For further details see the current application information and other relevant documentation.
