Course content

Companies and institutions today increasingly depend on knowledge and intelligence regarding the future scenarios of the surrounding world, consumers, and the high-level societal changes that influence consumption on a global and local level. Understanding societal shifts, trends and their interplay with consumption lay the foundation for possibilities to develop future innovations that may change the way we live and consumer, provide large profits for the business, and ideally improve the world in sustainable ways.

“Consumer Culture Theory and Consumer Insight” is a course, which takes the student on a challenging and intellectual journey through the modern history of consumption and production, into the present, and even into possible futures. The purpose of the course is to provide broad understanding of what has created the consumer trends we live by today and how what is happening today may form new trends tomorrow. Necessary for this is a step away from mainstream business management literature, into relevant sociological, cultural and anthropological literature on historical changes and present phenomena in consumer culture.

Course design

Instruction takes place primarily through lectures and seminars.

Assessment

The structure of the course and the basis of grading require regular attendance and ongoing work with various assignments. Grading takes place continually on the basis of individual closed-book exam, group seminar discussions and a group take-home exam.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, E, D, C, B, A.

At the School of Economics and Management grades are awarded in accordance with a criterion-based grading scale A-U (A-F). Students have to receive a grade of E or higher in order to pass a course.

GRADE CHARACTERISTIC POINTS / PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL SCORE CRITERIA

A Excellent 100-85 A distinguished result that is excellent with regard to the following aspects – theoretical depth, practical relevance, analytical ability and independent thought.

B Very good 84-75 A very good result with regard to the above mentioned aspects.

C Good 74-65 The result is of a good standard with regard to the above mentioned aspects and lives up to expectations.

D Satisfactory 64-55 The result is of a satisfactory standard with regard to the above mentioned aspects and lives up to expectations.

E Sufficient 54-50 The result satisfies the minimum requirements with regard to the above mentioned aspects, but not more.

U (F) Fail 49-0 The result does not meet the minimum requirements with regard to the above mentioned aspects.

If a written exam is included in the examination: A student who is graded Fail after two examinations on the written exam has the opportunity to request an additional task. The grade of this additional task is U or E and should be made no later than the semester following the semester when the student was registered at the course.

Plagiarism is considered to be a very serious academic offence. The University will take disciplinary actions against any kind of attempted malpractice in examinations and assessments. The penalty that may be imposed for this, and other improper practices in examinations or assessments, includes suspension from the University for a specific period of time.

Entry requirements

Students admitted to a Master Programme where this course is either a compulsory or elective part, are qualified for the course. For other students, at least 60 UCP or ECTS-cr in Business Administration is required. These must include a course in basic Business Administration (e.g. FEKA90 Business Administration: Introductory course in Business Administration).
