Course content
The course deals with the various manifestations of popular culture, focusing on twentieth and twenty-first century art and media. The intermedial interaction between various forms of media and art is particularly emphasised. The focus is on Western culture and examples are taken from the cultural history of the entire twentieth century but the relationship between postmodernism and popular culture is particularly emphasised. Advertising, television, internet, music videos, film, literature, music, comics etc. are all discussed and problematised. The theoretical tools are introduced on the basis of the fundamentals of Intermedia Studies, Cultural Sociology, Hermeneutics and Semiotics. The concept of popular culture itself is also problematised in the course.

Course design
Teaching consists of lectures and group exercises.

Assessment
The assessment is based on a written assignment.
