Language of instruction: English

Main field of studies

Depth of study relative to the degree requirements

G2F, First cycle, has at least 60 credits in first-cycle course/s as entry requirements

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the student shall be able to

Knowledge and understanding

- analyze and describe theories and central concepts within the research field of brand culture,
- analyze the dialectical relationship between brand strategies and consumer culture,
- analyze and describe how brands change with historical and cultural shifts in society,

Competence and skills

- discuss and reflect on brands as cultural artifacts situated in time and space,
- apply different theoretical approaches to brands to understand how they gain meanings in different contexts,

Judgement and approach

- critically reflect over consumer culture as an ideological framework that governs the way brands are assigned meaning and used,
- reflect on how brand cultures reproduce social relations and power.

Course content

The aim of the course is to provide the student with theoretical knowledge of cultural perspectives on brands and brand cultures. The course traces the development of brands in relation to historical and sociocultural shifts in society. Emphasis is placed on brands as products of consumer and visual cultures.

Course design

The teaching is given in the form of lectures and seminars.

Participation in seminars is compulsory unless special circumstances apply. Students who have been unable to participate due to circumstances such as accidents or sudden illness will be offered the opportunity to compensate for or re-take compulsory components. This also applies to students who have been absent because of duties as an elected student representative.

Assessment

Examination takes place through an individual take-home exam (7.5 credits).

The course includes opportunities for assessment at a first examination, a re-sit close to the first examination and a second re-sit for courses that have ended during that school year. Two further re-examinations on the same course content are offered within a year of the end of the course. After this, further re-examination opportunities are offered but in accordance with the current course syllabus.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, E, D, C, B, A.

The grade for a non-passing result is Fail. The student's performance is assessed with reference to the learning outcomes of the course. For the grade of E the student must show acceptable results.
