The main supervisor must hold a PhD. The students shall formulate a clear and original research problem, collect relevant data and investigate and analyse the problem in a scholarly manner.

Course design
1. Teaching: The supervision of the master thesis is carried out in the form of seminars and individual supervisions. As a part of this process, all students will act as discussants of other students' work.

Assessment
1. Examination: Examination consists of writing the essay, presenting the essay at a midterm and a final seminar, discussing another essay and actively participating in at least three other seminars. Individual performance during the work on the essay can affect the grade. The grade is decided by an examiner who is not simultaneously supervisor. The essay must be provided to the database of the Economic Library in order to pass the course.

2. Limitations on the number of examination opportunities: –

The University views plagiarism very seriously, and will take disciplinary action against students for any kind of attempted malpractice in connection with examinations and assessments. Plagiarism is considered to be a very serious academic offence. The penalty that may be imposed for this, and other unfair practices in examinations or assessments, includes suspension from the University for a specified period.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.
