Kursens innehåll

The aim of the course is to provide the student with basic knowledge about gender, social change and modernity in Sweden/Scandinavia, covering the period from the late 1800's up to the 1950's as well as to present the development of some theoretical debates within the field. The course will explore gender relations from an intersectional perspective. The history of class relations, gay and lesbian rights, ethnicity and racism in Scandinavia in the 1900's will also be discussed. We will analyze the early movement for women's rights.

Kursens genomförande

Teaching methods include lectures and group discussions. Seminars and oral presentations constitute mandatory parts of the course work.

Kursens examination

Students will be assessed on a written examination.

In connection with the course students are offered three examinations, a regular examination, a re-examination and one additional re-examination. Within one year after the course, students are offered a minimum of two additional re-examinations. Thereafter, more examinations are offered but in accordance with current course content.
