A1N, Second cycle, has only first-cycle course/s as entry requirements

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students shall be able to

Knowledge and understanding

- account for general development theories and development issues
- identify, compare and analyse different perspectives on development in theory and practice in present-day East and South-East Asia
- account for how different theoretical approaches to development relate to processes and historical legacies in different fields of development in the real world
- critically account for development and development actors in East and South-East Asia

Competence and skills

- independently and critically find and analyse literature about development processes in East and South-East Asia
- critically and systematically integrate knowledge, handle complexity and formulate assessments on development issues in East and South-East Asia

Judgement and approach

- critically and independently formulate analytical arguments in speech and writing

Course content

The course provides interdisciplinary study of key theories of the socio-economic development in present-day East and South-East Asia. The aim is provide students with tools to theoretically analyse, discuss and debate contemporary development issues by critically examining the conceptualisation of development, from theories of modernity to neomarxist theories, from neoliberalism to post/alternative development, focusing especially on historical legacies and future challenges.

The course adopts a critical approach to development theories and their impact on the fields most in need of development, while highlighting contradictions and points of convergence between different theoretical traditions. The course also deals with the practice and actors of development, and the role of NGOs, on the basis of detailed case studies, which the students discuss and learn from. The course starts with a discussion of the group's knowledge and needs and enables the students to focus on a specific issue within the many fields covered by the course.

Course design

The course consists of lectures, 1-3 seminars with oral presentations, of which one includes a written assignment, and film screenings.

Unless there are valid reasons to the contrary, compulsory participation is required in seminars.

Absence from a compulsory seminar can be compensated for by an assignment in accordance with instructions from the course director.

Assessment

The assessment is based on an individual seminar assignment (2.5 credits) and an individual take-home exam (5 credits).

The course includes opportunities for assessment at a first examination, a re-sit close to the first examination and a second re-sit for courses completed in the past year (catch-up exam).

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, E, D, C, B, A.

The highest grade is A and the lowest passing grade is E. The grade for a non-passing result is Fail.

The grade for the entire course consists of a weighted average of all components assessed with differentiated pass grades (in which A=5, B=4, C=3, D=2 and E=1). For a grade of Pass (at least E) on the entire course, the student must have been awarded at least a Pass (E or, for components awarded Pass or Fail, Pass) on all assessed components and have participated in all compulsory components.

At the start of the course students are informed about the learning outcomes stated in the syllabus and about the grading scale and how it is applied in the course.

Entry requirements

To be admitted to the course, the student must have a degree of Bachelor in social sciences or humanities.

Oral and written proficiency in English corresponding to English 6/B from Swedish upper secondary school is a requirement. International qualifications will be assessed in accordance with national guidelines.

A general exemption from the requirement of proficiency in Swedish is applied.
