Course content

The course deals with English language structure with regard to grammar, phonology and vocabulary. The students will practise analysing the English language and account for grammatical and pronunciation phenomena. Based on lectures and seminars in the early stages of the course, students practise basic applied analysis of the form, meaning and use of English words and phrases. The course deals with important factors for efficient second language learning of words and phrases, and students are expected to work systematically and continuously with their own learning process during the course, mainly through self-study based on mandatory texts. Another focus of the course is on factors associated with English pronunciation and helps students to reach a level where they can communicate well in English with both native and other speakers of English.

The course is divided into the following three modules

1. Grammar, 7.5 credits
2. Phonetics and Pronunciation, 4.5 credits
3. Vocabulary, 3 credits

Course design

The teaching consists of group exercises, lectures, seminars, workshops and teaching via a virtual learning environment. Pronunciation practice in a language lab may be included.

Assessment

1. The assessment of Grammar (7.5 credits) is based on a written invigilated exam.
2. The assessment of Phonetics and Pronunciation (4.5 credits) is based on a written invigilated exam.
3. The assessment of Vocabulary (3 credits) is based on 3-4 minor written tests during the course and a final written invigilated exam. The students' results in the minor tests are added to that of the final exam and the total score determines the grade for the Vocabulary component.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass, Pass with distinction.

For a grade of Pass on the whole course, the students must have been awarded this grade on all three modules. For a grade of Pass with Distinction on the whole course, the student must also have been awarded this grade for 10 credits.
