Main field of studies

English

Depth of study relative to the degree requirements

G1F, First cycle, has less than 60 credits in first-cycle course/s as entry requirements

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students shall be able to

Knowledge and understanding

- identify genre-specific components in texts of different types
- account for the conventions of academic writing in English

Competence and skills

- search for and use information in English in both libraries and databases
- based on critical source management, produce an investigative paper in English that applies correct reference and citation techniques
- use an extensive vocabulary of English words and phrases, general as well as academic, in written assignments

- observe set time frames and deadlines
- critically and with self-reflection, take a position on their own and others' written production
- analyse the subject matter of English fiction and non-fiction and argue for alternative interpretations

Judgement and approach

- compare, assess and argue for different analyses of a single text
- discuss explicit and implicit statements about class, gender and ethnicity in texts

Course content

The course enables students to practise literary analysis, information retrieval in libraries and databases, and composition of literary papers including references. Using an established schedule of interim goals, the students exercise the ability to plan their time and observe set time frames.

Course design

The teaching consists of lectures and seminars.

Assessment

The assessment is based on an independent, academic paper.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass, Pass with distinction.

Entry requirements

To be admitted to the course, the student must have completed ENGA04 (English: Level 1) or acquired the equivalent knowledge.
