Course content

In a literary overview course the students study a selection of English texts from the earliest times to the late 20th century with an emphasis on the most famous authors. These are studied in the context of cultural history. The student will also take a specialised elective course in either English literature or linguistics. The learning of new vocabulary is seen as an ongoing process, carried out, primarily, as self-study. Students are also to pursue practising their ability to plan and keep up with predetermined timeframes.

The course consists of the following modules:

1. British Literary History, 7 credits,
2. Elective Course, 5 credits,
3. Vocabulary, 3 credits.

The elective course is to be chosen from a selection of courses in either linguistics or literature. The list of elective courses is approved each semester and is available through the course website or distributed by the director of studies or equivalent.

Course design

The teaching consists of group exercises, lectures and seminars. Compulsory assessed seminars may be included in module 2 Elective Course.

Assessment

The assessment is based on:

Module 1 British Literary History: Written exam

Module 2 Elective Course: Depending on the character of the relevant course, for example written exam, written assignments such as a take-home exam, analytical paper, response paper, or learning journal, oral presentations and compulsory assessed seminars. The assessment can also be based on the performance of a play.

Module 3 Vocabulary: Written exam.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass, Pass with distinction.

To be awarded a grade of Pass on the whole course, the student must have been awarded this grade on all modules. To be awarded a grade of Pass with Distinction on the whole course, the student must also have been awarded this grade on at least 10 credits.

Entry requirements

To be admitted to the course, students must have passed ENGH03, English: Level 2a (31-45), or the equivalent.

Further information
