Course content

The course consists of a work placement at an agency, organisation or company in Europe. The student is to work full-time for at least 18 weeks on an inquiry and participate in the everyday activities at the workplace, assisted by a supervisor. The work duties and inquiry are to be connected to the previous training in European Studies and the student shall gain experience of how knowledge of cultural and political situations in present-day Europe is used in real-life situations at a workplace during the placement.

Course design

The course consists of a full-time work placement for at least 18 weeks at an agency, organisation or company in Europe.

Assessment

On completion of the work placement, the student is to submit an in-depth written report presenting and analysing the problem area addressed by the student and the experiences of the placement. In addition to the report, the supervisor is to submit a certificate stating the personal details of the student, the principal duties assigned to the student, the duration and scope of the placement, and the nature of the inquiry produced by the student during his or her placement. For a grade of Pass, the student must also submit an evaluation.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.
