General Information

The course is a compulsory component of the Master of Arts (120 credits) programme in Film and Media History (HAFME). It can normally be included in a first or second-cycle degree.

Language of instruction: English

Main field of studies

Film and Media History

Depth of study relative to the degree requirements

A1N, Second cycle, has only first-cycle course/s as entry requirements

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students shall be able to:

Knowledge and understanding

- give an account of the basic forms of academic presentation and publication and their contexts

Competence and skills

- in written, oral and audio-visual forms, present their own and others' research results in an accurate and accessible way, adapted to a specific context

Judgement and approach

- provide advanced feedback on the presentations of fellow students and receive

- such feedback in a constructive way,
- identify their need of additional knowledge and take responsibility for their knowledge development.

Course content

The course runs in an integrated way with the first semester's other courses and aims to instill progressive knowledge of the skills of the academic profession, above all related to research and research presentation.

Course design

The teaching is communicated in some short lecture components and also consists of group exercises in the earlier completed courses (FIMT26 and FIMT27).

Assessment

The regular examinations in the other courses of the semester (FIMT26 and FIMT27) are assessed based on a progressive knowledge perspective. For a grade of Pass, a grade of Pass is required on the written assignments in the previous courses (FIMT26 and FIMT27).

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass.

Entry requirements

Admission to the course requires a Bachelor's degree in Film Studies or Media History or equivalent. Oral and written proficiency in English corresponding to English 6/B from Swedish upper secondary school is a requirement.
