- independently write French with good lexical and grammatical control without manifestly having to restrict what is to be expressed
- independently prepare and execute oral presentations and participate in debates and discussions in French
- in speech and writing and using appropriate terminology, analyse and compare different texts in French and use secondary sources to situate them in their appropriate context
- identify and use relevant and reliable sources of information for the study of French language and literature
- use aids such as dictionaries and grammars to translate selected texts from French into Swedish
- apply French grammar in contrastive perspectives (between Swedish and French)
- apply some basic concepts within French linguistics to analyse a selection of French words, sentences and phrases in speech and writing
- execute and present a minor assignment of a scholarly nature in writing within one of the specialisations

Judgement and approach

- take a position on the concept of a scholarly approach within their specialisation
- take a critical position on source material and acquired knowledge
- understand and take a position on the ethics associated with a scholarly approach

Course content

The course places major emphasis on oral and written proficiency and on text study and text comprehension. Among the components included are oral proficiency with practice in debate methods, grammar, phonetics and an elective specialisation course, usually within linguistics or literature. The course is more focused on knowledge of language and literature than the level 1 course and introduces research methodology.

The course consists of the following modules:

1. Oral Proficiency: Debate and Discussion, 5 credits,
2. Written Proficiency: French Language and Grammar, 6 credits,
3. Literary Text and Literary Analysis, 7 credits,
4. French Linguistics, 5 credits.
5. Specialisation within Language or Literature, 7 credits.

Course design

The teaching consists of lectures, group exercises and individual supervision to a limited extent of the minor papers included in the elective specialisations. It is compulsory for students to attend at least 80% of the lectures and exercises.

Assessment

The assessment is based on:

1. Oral Proficiency: Debate and Discussion: Oral exam.
2. Written Proficiency: French Language and Grammar: Written exam and 2- 5 written assignments.
3. Literary Text and Literary Analysis: Written exam and 2-5 written assignments.
4. French Linguistics: Written exam.
5. Specialisation within Language or Literature: Paper.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, Pass, Pass with distinction.

For a grade of Pass on the whole course, the student must have been awarded this grade on all modules. For a grade Pass with Distinction on the whole course, the student must have been awarded this grade on at least 20 of the available 30 credits, 13 of which must be from modules 2 and 5.
