Course content

The aim of the course is to enable students to develop their ability to plan, structure and take responsibility for a project. A further aim of the project is to apply and specialise knowledge in the Bachelor's programme Urban and Regional Planning.

The project provides students with opportunities to combine theoretical knowledge with knowledge of different methods that are required to work with community planning. The students plan, implement and report a minor project individually or in groups. The project entails specialisation in a practice of social planning of the student's choice.

Course design

The teaching includes lectures, seminars, group discussions and practical application exercises. Compulsory participation is required in group discussions and application exercises.

Assessment

The assessment is based on a written project work in groups amounting to 7.5 credits. An opportunity to re-sit the exam is offered in close connection to the end of the course and by agreement with the examiner. If necessary, a catch-up exam will be offered on a later occasion. If the project is close to a Pass, the student may be offered to complete a supplementary assignment. A supplementary assignment can only be awarded a grade of Pass. The supplementary assignment must be submitted within five days of the lecturer assigning it.

The assessed components of the course are listed in an appendix at the end of this document.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.
