Knowledge and understanding

- account for the composition and structure of academic texts written in Spanish
- identify different registers in texts written in Spanish

Competence and skills

- produce a coherent, correct and rhetorically convincing text in Spanish about a delimited field of research
- seek relevant secondary texts for the degree project (i.e. the minor academic paper)
- apply the appropriate apparatus in the paper
- account orally in Spanish adapted to the situation for the ideas governing the degree project

- provide critical and constructive views on a degree project in Spanish in a discourse adapted to the situation

Judgement and approach

- take a critical position on research articles written in Spanish
- identify, delimit and investigate a topic appropriate for a minor academic paper written in Spanish.

Course content

The aim of the course is to enable students to develop their writing in Spanish. The first half of the course consists of exercises in academic writing, reading of research articles, searching for material and reference management. During the second half of the course, the students write a minor academic paper (3000-4000 words) on a topic chosen in consultation with the lecturer.

Course design

The teaching consists of lectures, group work and individual and group supervision. Attendance is compulsory at two of the seminars and the final paper defence.

Assessment

The course concludes with a discussion of the final papers. The paper and the defence of the paper serve as the components for assessment on the course.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.
