Details of approval

The syllabus was approved by The pro-dean for First-Cycle Studies at the Faculties of Humanities and Theology on 2020-03-26 and was last revised on 2020-04-28. The revised syllabus applies from 2020-04-28, autumn semester 2020.

General Information

Subject: Swedish.

The course is offered as a freestanding course. It may not be included in a degree at Lund University for students who already meet the requirement of Swedish proficiency for admission to higher education.

Language of instruction: English and Swedish

Main field of studies

Depth of study relative to the degree requirements

GXX, First cycle, in-depth level of the course cannot be classified

Learning outcomes

On completion of the course, the students shall be able to

Knowledge and understanding

- account in English for a few simple grammatical structures and sentence patterns in a learnt repertoire
- describe in English some basic features of Swedish pronunciation
- describe in Swedish a few cultural aspects of Swedish society e.g. some customs and elements of everyday life

Competence and skills

- interact with reasonable ease in structured situations and short conversations provided the other person helps if necessary
- use simple connectors to write short, basic descriptions of events, earlier activities and personal experiences
- understand clearly articulated standard language about familiar areas, provided that clarifications can be requested if necessary
- understand and summarise short, simple texts about familiar, concrete matters consisting of high frequency everyday and study-related language

Judgement and approach

- identify their need of further knowledge and skills in the subject.

Course content

The course is structured in accordance with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The teaching aims to provide the students with the knowledge and skills required to achieve language proficiency in Swedish equivalent to level A2. The course consists of teaching and practical exercises dealing with Swedish vocabulary, pronunciation and sentence structure. Furthermore, text study and oral exercises are included.

Course design

The course consists of lectures and exercises partly delivered remotely through an online learning environment. Students are required to participate under these conditions, and to have access to a computer with an Internet connection. The department will provide information about the technical requirements.

Assessment

The assessment is based on a written invigilated exam and an oral exam at the end of the course. The oral exam tests the student's ability to interact with reasonable ease in short conversations and to understand clearly articulated standard language about familiar matters.

The examiner, in consultation with Disability Support Services, may deviate from the regular form of examination in order to provide a permanently disabled student with a form of examination equivalent to that of a student without a disability.

Subcourses that are part of this course can be found in an appendix at the end of this document.

Grades

Marking scale: Fail, E, D, C, B, A.

The written part of the assessment amounts to 75 % of the grade and the oral part to 25 %. For a certain grade on the whole course, the student must have been awarded at least this grade for 75 % of the assessed components, and for a grade of A, B, C, D or E they must not have failed any component.

Entry requirements

To be admitted to the course, students must meet the general entry requirements for higher education in Sweden (with the exception of proficiency in Swedish) and have knowledge equivalent to SVEF00 Swedish for Students with a Foreign Background: Level 1, 7.5 credits

Further information

1. The course is offered at the Centre for Languages and Literature, Lund University.
2. To be admitted to the course, students must have knowledge of Swedish equivalent to SFSA11: Level 1 or SVEE11. Equivalent knowledge can be confirmed through a passed language level test.
