7,5 credits, undergraduate level (G2F)

The literature list was approved by the Board of the Department of Political Science on November 18, 2020.

The course will introduce and elaborate on diplomatic practice, such as negotiation and mediation. Central issues to be discussed and compared are varieties of diplomacy, newness and decline of diplomacy, cultural differences in international negotiation as well as third parties in international negotiations. Practice and strategies will be linked to various diplomatic actors, such as states, intergovernmental organisations (IGOs), nongovernmental organisations (NGOs) official and unofficial diplomats. The course stresses the linkage between theory and practice in international relations. The course seminars will provide empirical foundation for the theoretical discussions.
