

Literature for MNXB03, Physics and Gender applies from spring semester 2023

Literature established by Study programmes board, Faculty of Science on 2023-01-09 to apply from 2023-01-09

Schiebinger, L. Has feminism changed science?. Available as an e-book at Lund University library (go to search under lub.lu.se) or directly here Links to an external site... Historical background and introduction to the topic (albeit slightly outdated).

Gendered Innovation homepage (<https://genderedinnovations.stanford.edu/>).
Excellent resource for definitions, methods, cases and so on.

Connell, R W and Pearse, R (2014) Gender: In World Perspective, London, Polity. A broad overview of Gender Science.

Brage, T. 2019, What does gender have to do with physics?, Optics and Photonics News 30, 18-20. A brief introduction and overview of the topic.